Dear Mr. Miller:

Thank you for your letter dated April 5, 2016, to the Public Integrity Section. We have been asked to respond to you on their behalf.

Pursuant to Title 28, United States Code, Section 351, if you believe that a federal judge has engaged in conduct that is "prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts," you may file a written complaint with the clerk of the court of appeals for the appropriate federal circuit. The complaint will be reviewed by the Chief Judge for the circuit. Should you wish to contact that office directly, you may write:

The Honorable Theodore A. McKee
Chief Judge, Third Circuit
U.S. Court of Appeals
21400 U.S. Courthouse
601 Market Street
Philadelphia, PA 19106

We rely on investigative agencies to gather the relevant facts. If you believe this matter may constitute criminal activity, please contact the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the investigative arm of the Department of Justice. The FBI will determine whether a federal investigation may be warranted. If appropriate, the FBI will refer the matter to a United States Attorney for a final determination regarding legal action.

Again, thank you for writing the Public Integrity Section. We hope this information has been helpful.

Sincerely,

Correspondence Management Staff
Office of Administration

Dear Mr. Miller:

Thank you for your correspondence sent to Attorney General Jeff Sessions, dated February 9, 2017, alleging a civil rights violation.

The Criminal Section of the Civil Rights Division is responsible for enforcing federal criminal civil rights statutes. Much of our enforcement activity relates to the investigation and prosecution of deprivations of civil rights under color of law. These matters generally involve allegations of excessive physical force or sexual abuse by law enforcement officers.

We have carefully reviewed the information that you furnished. However, we have concluded that your complaint does not involve prosecutable violations of federal criminal civil rights statutes. This is not a judgment on the truth or merit of your complaint; it is simply to inform you that this is not the type of case that this office prosecutes. Therefore, we regret that we are unable to assist you.

Thank you for bringing this matter to our attention. We apologize that we were unable to assist you further.

Sincerely,

Tamara J. Kessler
Chief

Dear Mr. Miller

Thank you for your letter dated May 26, 2017, to Raymond Hulser. We have been asked to respond to you on his behalf.

Pursuant to Title 28, United States Code, Section 351, if you believe that a federal judge has engaged in conduct that is "prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts," you may file a written complaint with the clerk of the court of appeals for the appropriate federal circuit. The complaint will be reviewed by the Chief Judge for the circuit. Should you wish to contact that office directly, you may write:

In addition, you may wish to provide this information to the disciplinary committee of the state bar association, which has the authority to review allegations of professional misconduct by attorneys.

We rely on investigative agencies to gather the relevant facts. If you believe this matter may constitute criminal activity, please contact the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the investigative arm of the Department of Justice. The FBI will determine whether a federal investigation may be warranted. If appropriate, the FBI will refer the matter to a United States Attorney for a final determination regarding legal action.

Again, thank you for writing Raymond Hulser. We hope this information has been helpful.

Dear Mr. Miller:

Thank you for your letter, which we received July 23, 2018.

Based on our review of your material, you claim that multiple judges sitting on the Third Circuit Court of Appeals are corrupt and you would like our Office to investigate these judges. This allegation appears to stem from a civil lawsuit you filed in the United States District Court, District of New Jersey surrounding your repeated arrests for illegal placement of signage, failures to appear in court, and driving after a license suspension. The Third Circuit dismissed your claims on appeal.

Unfortunately, at this time, based on our review of your material and limited court records, we will not be referring your matter for federal investigation.

Very truly yours,

United States Attorneys Office
